Welcome to the Lusi Wong Library

Located on the main floor of the Academic Centre wing, the Lusi Wong Library at Renison University College is part of the TriUniversity Group (TUG) Library system and participates in many of the services provided to TUG members. TUG is a partnership of the University of Waterloo, the University of Guelph, and Wilfrid Laurier University.

Accessing the Library’s Resources

Since the Lusi Wong Library follows the circulation policies and procedures of the University of Waterloo Library, you must obtain a University of Waterloo WatCard (www.watcard.uwaterloo.ca). A uWaterloo library card can be obtained at any uWaterloo library circulation desk, or you may contact the Librarian to have a card prepared for you. You must either activate your card for library use at a participating TUG library, or you may self-register online at www.lib.uwaterloo.ca/borrowing/faculty_staff_reg.html.

Registration with the library system provides you with access to the physical materials in the TUG libraries, and to the electronic resources (indexes, databases, e-books, e-journals). These electronic resources may also be accessed from off-campus by connecting first to the Library’s “Connect from Home” service. Access is provided on the University of Waterloo Library homepage at www.lib.uwaterloo.ca.

Computing Facilities

The library has eight computer workstations for student use. Documents from these workstations can be sent to the Library’s laser printer and retrieved at a cost of 10 cents per page. uPrint service is also available at the Library. One accessibility workstation and two public workstations are also available.
The Library has a self-service photocopier which prints in 8½ x 11 and 8 ½ x 14 formats (WatCard only; 10 cents per copy plus taxes). Scans can be transferred using a USB or one of the workstations which is connected to the scanner.

Book Returns and Delivery

There is a book deposit in the hallway to the left of the library door. Books may be returned through the book deposit when the library is closed. Books taken out of the Renison library may also be returned to any of the TUG libraries. The Renison library can be designated as the pickup location for books requested by means of a hold or recall in Primo/TRELLIS, for articles requested through the TUGdoc article delivery, and for InterLibrary Loan materials requested through RACER.

You may request an item from other uWaterloo libraries, or from University of Guelph and Wilfrid Laurier University libraries to be placed on reserve at Renison.

Personal copies of textbooks provided by instructors may be placed on reserve, but it will need to be to affixed with a barcode and a call number. This will be done in such a way as to allow later removal, but please remember that copies cannot be protected from the wear and tear of reserve use.

Electronic reserves are also available to give students 24-hour access to reserve materials.
Requests for Purchase

You may submit requests for library purchases to the librarian, either in person, by email, or through the library’s online suggestion form. Please print clearly, listing author or editor, title, publisher, date of publication, and ISBN. Due to budget restrictions, not all requests may be ordered.

Donations

As a result of space constraints, only donations in the following categories can be accepted: Social Work, Social Development Studies, Anglicanism, East Asian Studies, East Asian Christian and Christian missionary works, works written by faculty, staff, and college fellows, archival materials (photos, letters, articles) concerning Renison College or its founders. Acceptance of donations in all categories is at the discretion of the Librarian.

A donation may not be accepted if the Librarian determines it will not enhance the collection, i.e. the book may be out of date, the library may already have a copy, or the book may not be appropriate for the collection.
